Overloaded and Underprepared: Strategies for Stronger Schools and Healthy, Successful Kids

Authors: Denise Pope, Maureen Brown and Sarah Miles

Based on over 10 years of work in the field and over 20 case studies from Challenge Success schools, Overloaded and Underprepared serves as a guide for change, offering practical solutions that can be implemented in a single classroom or on a school-wide scale. The book describes in detail the research-based SPACE framework, providing best practices on: Student schedules and use of time, Project and problem-based learning, Alternative and authentic assessments, Climate of care and Education of parents, students, and faculty about well-being. Join this book study group and participate in a Skype session with the author at Seton Hall University.
